Current employment opportunity: Associate Medical Officer of Health

Public Health Sudbury and Districts is a progressive public health agency that is committed to improving health and reducing social inequities in health through evidence-informed practice. With a head office in Greater Sudbury and five offices throughout Greater Sudbury and the districts of Sudbury and Manitoulin, we have over 250 staff who deliver provincially legislated public health programs and services (Ontario Ministry of Health and Long-Term Care).

The agency is governed by an autonomous Board of Health and has strong community and inter-agency partnerships, for example, with the Northern Ontario School of Medicine and Laurentian University. The agency has an enriched public health practice environment that fosters research, ongoing education, and the development of innovative programs and services.

We are currently seeking a highly qualified physician leader as the Associate Medical Officer of Health.

You are a highly skilled leader whose contributions at the senior executive level will enrich the planning, development, supervision, and evaluation of agency programs. You will assist the Medical Officer of Health in upholding public health legislation, contributing your public health and preventive medicine expertise to the agency, professional colleagues, and the community.

Public Health Sudbury & Districts history as a teaching health unit provides you with fulfilling academic opportunities including involvement with Laurentian University and the Northern Ontario School of Medicine. Your public health expertise contributes to improving northern, rural, Aboriginal, and Francophone health within the context of a dynamic multi-disciplinary public health agency committed to improving health equity.

As the successful candidate, you are licensed to practise medicine in Ontario and have a Fellowship in Public Health and Preventive Medicine with the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada or equivalent. You have excellent communication and interpersonal skills and are passionate about all aspects of public health, particularly as related to the north and to vulnerable populations. You have demonstrated passion and prior success in supporting evidence-informed practice and knowledge exchange. Excellent communication skills in both official languages are a strong asset.
